C65: Ruy Lopez: Berlin Defence (3...Nf6), unusual lines and 4 0-0 Bc5 My opponent Le Quang Liem, currently number 15 in the World, just won strong tournament in Biel. He is also tough rival for me: I lost two times with black against him in Dortmund with some other games that were drawn. However, this match was much easier for me compare to the previous one. In each game I was dominating with a chance to win the match much earlier. This game just an example. Mein Gegner Le Quang Liem, derzeit die Nummer 15 der Welt, hat gerade ein starkes Turnier in Biel gewonnen. Er ist auch ein harter Gegner für mich: Ich habe in Dortmund zwei Mal mit Schwarz gegen ihn verloren und einige andere Partien endeten remis.

Aber dieses Match war viel einfacher für mich im Vergleich zu dem vorherigen. In jeder Partie dominierte ich und hatte die Chance, das Match viel früher zu

E05: Open Catalan: 5 Nf3 Be7

I wanted to provide an informational to show the most natural way to play against the Catalan and explain why we went for the rare sideline in this course. The following theory was taken from my Aggressive Queen's Gambit Declined course if you are thinking of playing this as an alternative. White has multiple options, some of which are quite theory-intensive and easy to err in. We wanted something more points A to B and ideas based in this text. Let's get into some of the honeycomb variations to see what you would need to learn to play against the mainline Open Catalan with Black. Anytime it is noted that White has other options they are covered in detail in the aforementioned text. We stuck to the mainlines to give the reader an idea of the complexity of the mainline. 1.d4 Nf6 2.c4 e6 3.g3 d5 4.Bg2 Be7 5.Nf3

This game ended up determining the clear winner of the 2008 European Championship. This game ended up determining the clear winner of the 2008 European Championship. Tiviakov: 'This game from the last round of the European Championship was extremely important. Only this victory allowed me to win the tournament alone, without any tie. There were 8 players in the lead before the start of the last round and I was the only one to win (the other 3 games were quick draws). Emil also offered me a draw in the evening before this game. But being White in the last round and also having a big positive score against Emil I saw no single reason to accept it.

Tiviakov: 'Diese Partie aus der letzten Runde der Europameisterschaft war extrem wichtig. Nur durch diesen Erfolg war es mir möglich, alleiniger, ungeteilter Turniersieger zu werden. Myers [after Harding]: Karl Arvid Sundin (08.12.1914-09.11.1999) won this section with a score of 5.5/6. Harding calls him a "famous pianist", and so he was, although it may have been better said that he was a popular pianist (with piano partner Stig Holm) and dance bandleader ("Arvid Sundin and the Speedplayers"). The popular music of one country often does not translate easily to another time and place, but in Sweden Arvid Sundin was certainly well known. (My Swedish is non-existent, but he seems to have had a something of an early hit called "Swing Loaf from Enånger" on Wivex, unless I have this all hopelessly confused.) For our purposes, he was better known as a CC-IM who took part in the 7th World Correspondence Chess Championship Final, finishing 9th of 17 players. The loser in this game, Erik Andersson (born 8 June 1917), was also Swedish, [and the game is sometimes referred to as "The Swedish Immortal"]. 1.d4 e6 2.e4 d5 3.Nc3 Bb4 4.e5 Qd7 5.Bd2 b6 6.f4

D06: Queen's Gambit: Symmetrical and Baltic Defences D06: Queen's Gambit: Symmetrical and Baltic Defences Browne,W: 'Inf 33/490' Craig Pritchett:
 '1908 was a good year for Rubinstein, during which among other successes he took on and defeated the American champion, Frank Marshall, 4½-3½, in a match in Warsaw. As Marshall had just lost a world title challenge match against Emanuel Lasker the previous year, though by a much larger 11½-3½ margin, this was particularly encouraging.
 --- Early in 1909 Rubinstein tied with Lasker to win the great St Petersburg tournament of that year. Both finished on 14½/18, a full 3½ points ahead of Duras and Spielmann tied in 3rd.
 Rubinstein deservedly defeated Lasker in their individual game and, given the emphatic nature of his achievement at St Petersburg, he now started to be taken seriously as Lasker's rightful challenger. --- It was not just Rubinstein's result that impressed in St Petersburg, but also the magisterial, yet apparently effortless way he played in his best games. At about this time Rubinstein was beginning to get a reputation as a particularly strong endgame player, but in fact his chess always had a much more universal quality. Rubinstein played the opening, middlegame and endgame with equivalent power and a mastery of strategy and tactics that was second to no one. --- In his game at St Petersburg against Jacques Mieses (1865-1954), a romantic of the old school, Rubinstein nursed a hard-earned opening edge through to a win in an outstanding endgame. Mieses' entry in The Oxford Companion to Chess attracts the unfair and certainly exaggerated comment that "he never assimilated the positional ideas of Steinitz and Tarrasch." Be that as it may, he certainly got a lesson in the art of playing classically direct chess in this game.' 1.d4 d5 2.c4 c5 3.cxd5 Nf6 4.Nf3 cxd4 5.Nxd4 Nxd5 6.e4 Nf6 7.Nc3 e5 8.Nb3 N -0.10/20

C00: French: Unusual White 2nd moves This game was played in one of the most crucial matches in the past season of the Bundesliga. A win for the team in this match would almost surely mean that the team remained in the league. In such a situation one might think that a solid game and a draw with Black would be a good result. However I felt that my board was one of those where we had chances to achieve more and I'm not a fan of draws either. When I suggested a pawn sacrifice on the third move as Black vs the solid Alapin Sicilian some of my team mates were a bit sceptical. However since I had a lot of concrete lines to back it up with my choice of opening was finally accepted. 1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bb5 Nf6 4.d3 Bc5 5.c3 0-0 6.0-0 d5 7.Nbd2 dxe4 8.dxe4 Qe7 8...a5 deserves study. 8...a5 verdient Beachtung. 9.h3 a5 10.a4 Nb8 11.Re1 Rd8 12.Qc2 Nbd7 13.Nb3N

B12: Caro-Kann: Advance Variation

In this game, we will see yet another example featuring the 3...dxe4 variation, this time featuring one of the brightest chess talents - Arjun Erigaisi - with the White pieces. I have specifically decided to include this game because it features the rare move order where White plays Nbd2 before castling, that was mentioned in the clickables in the theoretical section. 1.e4 c6 2.d4 d5 3.f3 dxe4 4.fxe4 e5 5.Nf3 Bg4 6.c3

B12: Caro-Kann: Advance Variation

In this game, we will see yet another example featuring the 3...dxe4 variation, this time featuring one of the brightest chess talents - Arjun Erigaisi - with the White pieces. I have specifically decided to include this game because it features the rare move order where White plays Nbd2 before castling, that was mentioned in the clickables in the theoretical section. 1.e4 c6 2.d4 d5 3.f3 dxe4 4.fxe4 e5 5.Nf3 Bg4 6.c3 Nd7 7.Nbd2 Ngf6 8.Be2 The position is equal. 8...Bd6 The modern move. Der moderne Zug. 9.Nc4 Qe7

C01: French: Exchange

Variation We're in another classical game in 2015. It's a format of 90 minutes and then you get 30 minutes with 30 second bonus from move 40.

Onischuk's accuracy here was 96.5% which is incredible. We're gonna skip a few boring wins against extremely weak players again. This game is another fun one though. Now, yes, George is a FM, but this one is a strong one. 2400 is a very good rating for an FM player, this guy is also young, at this point (2021) he's 19 so he is a young but solid player.

A21: English Opening: 1...e5 2 Nc3
Welcome to the second segment of the Quickstarter. This covers the English Variation. Against the English, I recommend the universal setup of ...e5, ...d6 & ...f5 (barring a few exceptions). We are strategically ambitious and grab space whenever we can. Black takes over the initiative in a lot of positions. Unlike 1.Nf3 lines, these lines are quite 'theme-based'. Rather than the concrete moves, your focus should be on absorbing the ideas as there are many possible transpositions. 1.c4 e5 2.g3 d6 3.Bg2 f5 4.Nc3 Nf6 5.d3 Be7 6.e4 fxe4 7.dxe4 0-0 8.Nge2 -0.12/20

Before we go down the rabbit hole of studying our 1.c3 Venom theory, I'd first like to showcase to you some evidence of what playing 1.c3 Venom is all about! If you've been an avid studier of the mainlines for a long while, there may still be some doubt in your mind that 1.c3 may not live up to the expectations presented in my introduction. However, I hope by the end of these two model games, you will understand the power of what playing a sound, but offbeat, opening system can achieve! Several months ago, I met up with an old chess friend of mine for some casual blitz chess. I'd say I was always roughly a couple hundred ELO higher rated than him, but that doesn't mean I'd win every game against him! However, that evening, I was on a hot streak, and had won my first two blitz games (5|0) against him. As a result, I decided to experiment with a Caro-Kann with Black for our third game. 1.e4 c6 2.d4 d5 3.Nc3 dxe4 4.Bc4 Nd7N

Die nachfolgende Partie wird durch den unterschiedlichen Werdegang der Damen bestimmt. Zunächst bringt Schwarz seine Dame zu früh heraus und erlaubt dem Weißen eine schnelle Entwicklung. Schließlich läßt sich die schwarze Dame auf b8 nieder und die Stellung erscheint halbwegs gesichert.

Dann jedoch schwenkt die weiße Dame elegant zum verwaisten schwarzen Königsflügel und entfacht einen heftigen Angriff. Ich verwende Kommentare von Euwe, Petrosian und Kmoch aus "Von Steinitz bis Fischer" von Max Euwe. 1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bc4 Nf6 4.d3 Bc5 5.0-0 a6 6.a4 h6N

'Rapport wins Beograd Grand Prix and Qualifies for the Candidates' A win with white in the second game of the final gave Richard Rapport tournament victory at the second leg of the FIDE Grand Prix in Beograd. Rapport beat Dmitry Andreikin after rejecting a draw by triple repetition in a double-edged position. This victory, combined with his reaching the semifinals in the first leg of the series in Berlin, places him as a clear favourite to get a spot in the Candidates Tournament. Rapport's qualification to the Candidates cannot be fully ascribed to luck by any stretch of the imagination, though. The Hungarian star did not shy away from employing his usual creative playing style in the first two legs of the series, and has demonstrated that he is particularly well-versed in dealing with imbalanced, sharp positions. The 25-year-old was happy to have scored his greatest success to date in the city where he lives with his wife, Serbian WGM Jovana Rapport. The ever modest Rapport credited his wife for this exceptional result: "Usually for me trips are connected to events and results, so of course you have favourite places, but usually they connect to when you play well... so for me Beograd will actually not be influenced by this event, as funny as it is, even though this is probably the biggest success of my career to date. It will still be influenced by my love, my marriage, my life, really, so I'm just happy that this overall beautiful picture wasn't ruined by chess. She's my only support, actually. I have to thank her for everything, for putting up with me. I'm very difficult on normal days, but during tournaments I think it goes to 100 x the volume." Dmitry Andreikin who finished 2nd, as well as Anish Giri and Maxime Vachier Lagrave retain some chances to qualify to the Candidates Tournament. However, after the second leg, Richard Rapport and Hikaru Nakamura are clear favourites. Now we will present you some of the most interesting games and moments from the Tournament according to selection of our Editorial Board.  Giri dominated his group at the Grand Prix Belgrade, winning two white Italian Games, the one against Tabatabaei being especially good. second game of the final gave Richard Rapport tournament victory at the second leg of the FIDE Grand Prix in Beograd. Rapport beat Dmitry Andreikin after rejecting a draw by triple repetition in a double-edged position. This victory, combined with his reaching the semifinals in the first leg of the series in Berlin, places him as a clear favourite to get a spot in the Candidates Tournament. Rapport's qualification to the Candidates cannot be fully ascribed to luck by any stretch of the imagination, though. The Hungarian star did not shy away from employing his usual creative playing style in the first two legs of the series, and has demonstrated that he is particularly well-versed in dealing with imbalanced, sharp positions. The 25-year-old was happy to have scored his greatest success to date in the city where he lives with his wife, Serbian WGM Jovana Rapport. The ever modest Rapport credited his wife for this exceptional result: "Usually for me trips are connected to events and results, so of course you have favourite places, but usually they connect to when you play well... so for me Beograd will actually not be influenced by this event, as funny as it is, even though this is probably the biggest success of my career to date. It will still be influenced by my love, my marriage, my life, really, so I'm just happy that this overall beautiful picture wasn't ruined by chess. She's my only support, actually. I have to thank her for everything, for putting up with me. I'm very difficult on normal days, but during tournaments I think it goes to 100 x the volume." Dmitry Andreikin who finished 2nd, as well as Anish Giri and Maxime Vachier Lagrave retain some chances to qualify to the Candidates Tournament. However, after the second leg, Richard Rapport and Hikaru Nakamura are clear favourites. RUS-ch playoff 77th rapid (1) 28.08.2024

[Kitty Kat]

C65: Ruy Lopez: Berlin Defence (3...Nf6), unusual lines and 4 0-0 Bc5 The play gets more interesting as the match goes on. We would have liked the match to continue further, to game eight or beyond. The players have warmed up to the task, but they are also well aware that if their play starts to get more fanciful, as in games one and three, the opponent will find refutations. --- Technically, what is most striking about this game is that, although the play gets strange and complicated, and both players are fighting hard for tactical blows, it seems the game did not stray far from equality, except for a brief phase just before the time control. Most players would have got well beyond their depth, whether as White or as Black, and therefore a loss is likely. Yet both Kramnik and Aronian kept their balance, not through quiet "positional" chess, but fighting the position through, move by move. --- 1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bb5 Nf6 4.d3 Bc5 5.Ba4 0-0 6.0-0 d6 7.c3 Bb6 8.h3 The position is

Slow 90min+30sec E05: Open Catalan: 5 Nf3 Be7 I wanted to provide an informational to show the most natural way to play against the Catalan and explain why we went for the rare sideline in this course. The following theory was taken from my Aggressive Queen's Gambit Declined course if you are thinking of playing this as an alternative. White has multiple options, some of which are quite theory-intense and easy to err in. We wanted something more points A to B and ideas based in this text. Let's get into some of the honeycomb variations to see what you would need to learn to play against the mainline Open Catalan with Black. Anytime it is noted that White has other options they are covered in detail in the aforementioned text. We stuck to the mainlines to give the reader an idea of the complexity of the mainline. 1.d4 4 Nf6 6 2.Nf3 5 d5 4 3.c4 6 e6 4 4.g3 6 Be7 4 5.Bg2 4 0-0 5 6.0-0 7 dxc4 2 7.Qc2 8 a6 7 8.a4 8 Bd7 2 9.Qxc4 16 Bc6 6 10.Bg5 6 Nbd7 5 11.Rc1N 20

C02: French: Advance Variation Braun, Christian: 'Jacimovic, Dragoljub: 'EUROPEAN CHESS CLUB CUP 2021 Tournament Report The 36th European Chess Club Cup was held in Struga from September 18-24. After a break of a year, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the best chess teams in Europe came together again. After the withdrawal of the Padova team, the main favorites for the first place remained Alkaloid (Severna Makedonija), Bronze Horseman (Russia) and Novy Bor (Cesko). As many times before, the winner of the tournament was decided in the last round. Bronze Horseman played the whole tournament quite safely, and with a little luck won the first prize. Novy Bor justified the "title" of a respectable team and did not disappoint clinching the second place. Alkaloid failed to finish among the top three teams with a bad result in the last round, even though the team was the rating favourite. All in all, this European Chess Club Cup passed without too much excitement. Also, I should mention that Sloven Ruma, the only Serbian team in the tournament, which consisted of highly experienced grandmasters, found itself in the division of 4-7 place, with five victories and two defeats. Maybe they could have done better, but this is also a solid placement considering the team's starting ranking. The team of Bronze Horseman, led by Svidler (who did not win any games), had outstanding results on the lower boards, where Alekseev and Ponkratov did an excellent job, and brought the Russian team another title. By the way, the tournament was held under strict COVID-19 measures, with two tests during the tournament and keeping the distance during the games. Some players used face masks, some played without masks, and all of that gave some weird flavour to this event. The playing conditions were decent, except that a couple of teams traveled for ten minutes to the playing hall. Overall, the quality of the play was at a really remarkable level, but due to the overall situation this tournament will not be remembered for long.
